

About Us

Renaissance IT Consulting, Inc. was officially incorporated in 2010, but has served clients throughout the Bay Area since 2005. The company is comprised of a collaborative team of professionals whose individual experiences give you, the client, a complete presence for all your IT needs. Like other Managed Service Providers, we monitor and are proactive in protecting and preventing downtime. Unlike other providers, we work with your business and processes to save you money, increase revenue and lower downtime, thus assisting you in becoming an industry leader.

Challenge

We worked with a 30-person law firm supporting in house and remote employees that had suffered various file server and email outages. This had cost their legal firm thousands of dollars of billable time.

Solution

Through our meetings and getting to know their business, we were able to stabilize the environment and introduce new technology both onsite and in the Cloud that fit their needs and budget.

Results

We stopped downtime, which prevented employees and lawyers from sitting around doing nothing and costing the firm thousands of dollars. In addition, with those introductions, we enabled people to access and work from remote locations, thus saving commute time and frustration.

“ RenIT has been friendly and responsive to all our needs. Not only are they quick to respond to emails and messages, but they’ll also come into the office on a moment’s notice to take care of problems in person. Thanks for keeping everything running smoothly! ”
